

Antelope Valley Press

Old, young theme of workshop

8/25/2013

LANCASTER - The Children's Center of the Antelope Valley Young Artist Workshop at the Lancaster Museum of Art and History will connect young and old, using the "When I'm Sixty-Four" exhibit as its inspiration for the creative expression of its participants.

The free walk-in workshop will be run from 3 to 7 p.m. Thursday in the Hernando and Fran Marroquin Family Classroom at the museum, 665 West Lancaster Blvd.

"When I'm Sixty-Four" is an exploration of the nation's growing 50-plus population and its impact on our society, economy, politics, family structures and health care system.

Workshop staff will teach participants how to create a memory map of their lives using their family experiences as inspiration to create a visual representation, or map, of their past and those relationships.

For details or to donate to museum programs, visit its website, www.lancastermoah.org.